

From: Gray, David
To: Meyer, John; Miller, Gary; Banipal, Ben; Phillips, Pam; Edlund, Carl; Sanchez, Carlos
Subject: Baytown Sun 12/24 - EPA probing hole in waste pits cap
Date: Thursday, December 24, 2015 8:29:01 AM

EPA probing hole in waste pits cap

Baytown Sun photo by Christopher James

On Wednesday, community leaders visited the San Jacinto River Waste Pits site where members of the Environmental Protection Agency are looking at repairing a possible hole in the waste pits cap. From left are Harris County Attorney Vince Ryan, Congressman Gene Green and San Jacinto River Coalition Director Jacquelyn Young.

Posted: Thursday, December 24, 2015 1:13 am | Updated: 1:16 am, Thu Dec 24, 2015.

EPA probing hole in waste pits cap By Christopher James christopher.james@baytownsun.com Baytown Sun | 0 comments

After discovering a hole in the San Jacinto River Waste Pits cap, the Environmental Protection Agency is working to repair it — an effort that community leaders are grateful for.

"I do feel like the EPA has placed a sense of urgency on this as they have crews out here taking samples and checking the extent of the damage," said Jacquelyn Young, San Jacinto River Coalition director. "They flew down from Dallas and we appreciate them coming down the day before Christmas Eve and taking this seriously like they should."

9752377